You are working at a restaurant in Japan. As this is your first day working there, you make mistakes taking orders from the customers.

When the customers enter you should say いらっしゃいませ.

When you realise that you made a mistake, you should apologize saying すみません.

Welcome the customers and give them the menu.

Bring the dishes to the customers.

Apologise to the customers.

Bring the correct order and apologise to the customers

You are a customer at a restaurant in Japan. You give your order to the waiter/waitress, but s/he brings the wrong dish.

When you order your dish you say (food) をください.

When the food brought to your table is not what you ordered, say これじゃないです.

Order the dish you want.

Complain that this is not what you ordered.

Repeat your order.

Thank the waiter/waitress and start eating.
